

Karin C. Rodriguez

INDUSTRIAL ENTREPRENEUR | CFO OF SIGNO PLAST S.A.
INTERNATIONAL SPEAKER ON LEADERSHIP, RESILIENCE AND WOMEN'S ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT

PROFILE

Karin C. Rodriguez is an industrial entrepreneur, CFO of Signo Plast S.A., and an international leader in leadership, resilience, and women's economic empowerment. From within the productive sector, she drives initiatives that promote business development with a gender perspective and strengthen female leadership in both corporate and institutional environments.

She actively participates in various national and international organizations focused on productive development, equal opportunities, and the creation of networks that support women's leadership. She currently serves as President of Red MIA – Mujeres de la Industria Argentina, President of the Women Economic Forum Los Angeles, and President of the Women Entrepreneurs Department of the Industrial Union of the Province of Buenos Aires (UIPBA). She also serves as Global Ambassador of Hearts of Change and Peace Ambassador of the Mother Teresa International Foundation.

She is an international speaker and co-author of several books on leadership and inspiration, where she shares her experience as an industrial entrepreneur and advocate for collaborative networks that promote women's growth and participation in the business world. She also contributes to public-private collaboration spaces, supporting initiatives related to productive development, the gender agenda, and sustainability.
